I Know A Place

I know a place where the sun makes my skin feel warm.
I know a place where my smile is radiated eternally.
I know a place where a dozen kisses hold the power to heal.
I know a place where the cold feels inviting.

A place involving...
The element of freedom

I know a place where my mother welcomes me with open arms.
I know a place where my sister holds her hand out as support.
I know a place where my friends keep me grounded.
I know a place where I feel forever blessed and surrounded.

A place involving...
The teachings of kindness

I know a place where I am kind and courteous.
I know a place where I am helpful and supportive.
I know a place where I am patient and wise.
I know a place where the sun will always rise.

A place involving...
The beauty of humanity

I know a place where I can be me
I know a place where I can be truly free
I know a place where the birds sing and caress each ear.
I know a place where the animals live in serenity.

A place involving...
The dreams we make for ourselves and the kindness we show to each living creature.

And that place is...
