Low low low

I felt so low before

I felt I was falling, far, fast, quicker than ever before.

I thought my life was falling around me slowly piece by piece and I couldn't put it together anymore, like I did before

I was in a black hole it was dark all around me

I was confused and unsure

But

Someone pulled me back up when I had fallen over

Tugged me out of darkness of my problems

Saved me

Became my listening ears

They valued me, cared about me,

I was needed

I finally felt like me again even on my low weeks I know on a Thursday I would enter the radio studio hit the Mic and start the show doing what I love the best being me and not caring about anything else

That's hillz FM

My safe space, forever and always in my heart.
