

What have we become?

Enjoying other people's death
Hiding behind our weapons
We seek revenge
We need revenge
And thrive to kill'em all

What have we become?

We kill for our liberty
And yet there's no one
Who is threatening it
We kill the children
With their mothers
And call it justice
And then try to cover

What have we become?

In war we kill the enemy
Without a trace of mercy
We call them devils
But who are we?
We are the 'justice' aren't we?
If you can kill somebody's wife
Their child, or mother
Is that right?
Is that how we defend our history?
Killing their beloved ones
Just for the sake of liberties?

My questions is
Are we that free?

What have we become?

C. Dovan