

Decision By Chris Johnson

Yes, I have made the biggest decision,

I am now going to enlight my life.

As when faith starts to flow, belief's bliss grows,

All dark clouding fades and the true sun glows.

There is a vision to have and make real,

Where peace is present in each every place.

All faiths' hearts again, are seen to be same,

And all life has high respect and acclaim.

Bad that was then is not this instant...Now!

Pull from city's web out onto the trail,

Through fresh woods to fields, bright golden with yield,

Let your spirit soar and life be fulfilled.

Love is the destined and the way to go,

The love we all need, I now know I know.
