

Government leaders all around the world
Seem confused, cold, bold and visibly old

So many souls sold

Integrity none

Courage none

Decency none

Our community workers men woman and children

Have all the above have all the love

Naturally

Where are their recognition awards

Too many fictional lime light grabbers

Continuously planting their seed

Replenishing their greed

Why do you need so much

What about us

The community workers the real heroes the heroines

That help so many eat another day

Keep me warm when I'm cold

Educate and support, things are so much clearer now

All those years I didn't know how

Their love and support are always the same

Help my wellbeing and reduce my pain

We have cried tears of joy and wanted to hold you

So noble and true we bless you for all that do

In the dark you bring the light

By Simon Harrison