Looking After Our Environment

It's time to let your inner poet shine! The Positive Images Festival presents its Poetry Competition, inviting all aspiring poets aged 16 and over to weave magic with words and share your poetic love for the environment. As Robert Swan said, 'The greatest threat to our planet is the belief that someone else will save it.'

Our judges are on the lookout for fresh and unique takes on the theme, so steer clear of those tired clichés and generalisations! Every year, we see the quality of poems stepping up, and we're genuinely excited to dive into your poetic creations once again this year. Your poetic contributions are eagerly anticipated.
